

Max Completions Mobile Application

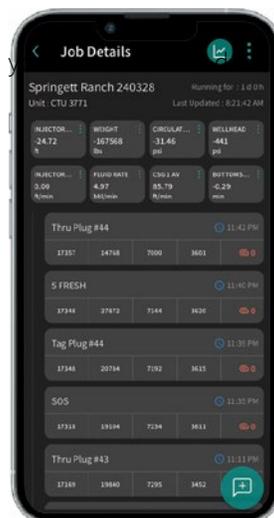

Real-Time Completions Data at Your Fingertips

Simplify and streamline your completions data handling needs with the Max Completions™ mobile application. Leveraging the core components from our industry-leading web solution, our mobile application connects the field directly with the office, providing a real-time solution for interaction with active jobs and onsite personnel.

The application empowers authorized personnel to share contextual details, providing a collaborative workspace where sensor data and human input interact.

With enhanced visibility into your operations, driven decisions from the palm of your hand.

Features

- Gain real-time visibility into live jobs, including company jobs and jobs shared with you
- Analyze trending graphs
- Share access to your active jobs
- View and create comments, including pre-defined comments associated with KPI metrics and free-text comments
- Update manual variables (such as return rate and viscosity) for calculated channels
- Upload and save multimedia from the jobsite into the Max Completions job log and reports

